From the Principal

Dear families,

Last week we celebrated SSO Week. We would like to extend our heartfelt appreciation to all our School Services Officers. Your dedication, hard work, and support make a profound impact on the daily lives of students, staff, and our school community. Whether you're assisting in the classroom, supporting administration, maintaining our grounds, or helping in countless other ways, your efforts do not go unnoticed.

Thank you for your commitment, professionalism, and the care you bring to Flinders View Primary School every single day. We are grateful to have such an incredible team of SSO's.

Yesterday we celebrated Book Week, this special week highlights the joy of reading and brings our school community together through a love of books and stories. Thank you to our students, staff, and families for getting involved—whether it's dressing up as favorite book characters, sharing stories, decorating classrooms, or taking part in fun reading activities. Your enthusiasm helps make Book Week a memorable occasion for everyone.

Let's continue to inspire a lifelong love of reading in every child.
